Practical Guide for Paris

Who is GS1, GS1 Healthcare and GS1 France?

Founded 50 years ago, GS1 is an international, neutral, not-for-profit organization that facilitates and automates exchanges between trading partners by relying on a unique, globally recognized and used identification system.

With more than 2-million-member companies of all sizes and sectors worldwide, including 53,000 in France, GS1 offers a space for collaboration and inclusion, enabling the definition and adoption of common rules - standards - that benefit everyone. With GS1 standards, companies uniquely identify their products, logistics units, locations, and entities throughout their life cycle, regardless of the sales channel.

In 2005, GS1 Healthcare was established to bring together the global healthcare community and lead successful development and implementation of global standards. GS1 Healthcare comprises experts from hospitals, pharmacists, clinicians, manufacturers, distributors, and solution providers all working with regulators and professional organisations to enhance patient safety and supply chain efficiencies. GS1 is an UDI Issuing Agency/Entity based on many regulations worldwide, in particular US, EU, China, South Korea, Saudi Arabia. <https://www.gs1.org/healthcare>

GS1 France is the representative of GS1 in France to accompany French companies to implement GS1 standards to improve their processes. In the Healthcare sector, GS1 France defined "ID Medical Devices" to identify medical devices, mark them with barcodes and share product information with their partners, to help them to be compliant with the UDI regulations. <https://www.gs1.fr/identifier-vos-dispositifs-medicaux>
